

for the defacers said they were ridiculing the movie star's Rambo character. "He has a very big thing about security," said Katz. Stallone was in Denmark with wife, Brigitte Nielsen, visiting her 2-year-old son.

She's getting body and soul together in California

Margaret Moos, former producer of radio's "A Prairie Home Companion" and longtime live-in companion of the show's star, Garrison Keillor, until last year, when Keillor married a Danish woman he met at a high school reunion, is now in Riverside County, Calif. She is developing a musical program for public radio, doing consulting work for public radio stations and looking into movie possibilities.

"I'm eating vegetarian, I'm losing weight and I've got a tan," she said. "And I appreciate having the time to take care of my body and soul." Moos, 41, who had not been heard from publicly in 10 months, refused to criticize Keillor, noting: "Nothing in this world lasts forever. I've made new friends, but there's no one special right now."

George Burns signs up for another five years

George Burns, 90, has signed a five-year contract with Caesars World to do shows at its showplaces in Las Vegas, Nev., Atlantic City, N.J., and Lake Tahoe, Nev.

"He's a very popular draw in our showroom," said a Caesars spokeswoman. "He's a wonderful performer and everybody wants to see him."
