Keillor showing wild not mild

By DEBORAH BRADLEY
FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM

Garrison Keillor, the mild-mannered voice of American Radio Company, is changing his tactics.

Rather than his typical all-American approach, Keillor's latest best-selling book, WLT: A Radio Romance, exposes his bawdier side.

He brings this sharper edge to the Dallas Convention Center Theatre on Tuesday for a reading from his book.

Keillor will explore the comical world at WLT — a fictional Midwestern radio station — the affairs, the politicking and the good-natured hypocrisy of the personalities that are radio.

While Keillor is perhaps best known for his radio work, WLT is only one of his best-sellers. He is also responsible for Lake Wobegon Days, Happy To Be Here and We're Still Married.

Keillor's American Radio Company airs on KERA/90.1 FM at 5 p.m. Saturdays.

Garrison Keillor performs at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Dallas Convention Center Theatre. Tickets are $18, or $15 for members of KERA/90.1 FM, at Rainbow-TicketMaster outlets.

Garrison Keillor will read from his new novel WLT: A Radio Romance at the Dallas Convention Center Theatre Tuesday.
