

Man the Garrison

Fans of Garrison Keillor and A Prairie Home Companion, which airs on KJZZ-FM (91.5), have a chance to get interactive with Keillor tonight when the master storyteller goes online to host a live scriptwriting session with listeners across the country.

The computer conversation with Keillor runs from 7 to 8 p.m., and the plan is to write a script using characters Keillor has selected.

“Life is hard, full of grief and unpleasant surprises and tough luck,” Keillor says. “This week’s collaborative online story project will combine several well-known tales to make a single narrative, on whose branches you can hang all the worst things that have happened to you this week.” Check in well in advance on A Prairie Home Companion’s Web page (<http://www.mnonline.org/wobegon/>) for more details.
