

Gospel singer Larnelle Harris will appear at a free concert tonight at Southeast Christian Church.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, with a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. Sunday performances are at 1 and 6:30 p.m.

Tickets, ranging from $21.50 to $51.50, are on sale now at the arts center and all TicketMaster locations. Half-price student rush discount tickets are available at the box office one hour prior to curtain time. There is a limit of two tickets per student. Tickets may be charged by calling (502) 584-7777 or online at www.ticketmaster.com.

Wednesday

Critically acclaimed radio humorist and author Garrison Keillor will be the guest speaker at the University of Louisville Kentucky Author Forum. The forum starts at 5 p.m. today with refreshments and a book sale at the Kentucky Center for the Arts. At 6 p.m. Keillor will be interviewed in the Bomhard Theater. A book signing follows.

Keillor is host of one of America's most popular radio shows, "A Prairie Home Companion." Along with "Lake Wobegon Summer 1956," Keillor is also the author of "Good Poems."

Tickets are sold out.

The arts center is at Sixth and Main streets.

Those who can't attend can see an unedited tape of his appearance at 2 p.m. Friday at the St. Matthews/Eline

Branch Library, 3940 Grandview Ave. KET will broadcast Keillor's speech and interview at a later date.

Crane House, an Asian cultural center in Louisville, will be the host for a lecture, "Frontiers of Inner Asia: The Southern Silk Road," Wednesday at 6 p.m. at its building, 1244 S. Third St.

Bob Jones, a professional guide and photographer, will present a slide-illustrated lecture on the southern route of China's Silk Road, which he traveled in 1999 and 2001.

Admission is $5 (free for Crane House members). Reservations must be made by Tuesday by calling (502) 635-2240 or e-mailing adm@crane-house.org.

The Kentucky Center for the Arts continues its free Wordsmith Underground spoken-word series Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Martin Experimental Theater.

The Underground offers local poets the chance to share their work during an open-mike session. It also presents the works of established authors.

Free appetizers, desserts and coffee will be served, compliments of Cove Catering. The arts center is at Sixth and Main streets.

Thursday

The Louisville community will celebrate the public service career of David L. Armstrong with a free evening of the arts Thursday at the Brown Theatre, 315 W. Broadway. The doors open at 6 p.m. with the performances starting at 7.

Armstrong's career as the city's mayor, Jefferson County judge-executive, Kentucky's attorney general, commonwealth's attorney and juvenile court judge has spanned more than 23 years.

The evening's entertainment will include performances by members of Actors Theatre of Louisville, PNC Bank Broadway in Louisville, the Louisville Ballet, the Louisville Orchestra, the Kentucky Opera and Stage One. Organizers say this is the first time that these art groups have come together to perform at one event.

A reception will be held after the performance in the Bluegrass Room at the nearby Brown Hotel. Complimentary open seating is available. Tickets are not required.

Time is ticking if you want to see Clarksville Little Theatre's production of "The Diviners," which ends