Radio personality Garrison Keillor will lecture at SIUC's Shryock Auditorium Monday, Oct. 3. Tickets are $36.

Garrison Keillor comes to Carbondale

CARBONDALE — What is about that soothing voice? Garrison Keillor could read the ingredients on a cereal box and make you dream of homemade apple pie — and virtually everything else that's warm and fuzzy and homespun.

For more than 30 years, that deep and gravelly tone has brought the fictional town of Lake Wobegon to life for more than 4 million listeners each week on over 558 public radio stations around the world.

The remarkable sound of America Public Media's "A Prairie Home Companion" will also shine from an SIUC podium next week.

The Radio Hall of Famer and author of several books brings his life experience to the Shryock stage with a public lecture and book signing, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 3.

Tickets are $36 and can be ordered through Ticketmaster at (866) 646-8849, ticketmaster.com/shryock, or at any Ticketmaster outlet. Tickets may also be purchased in person at the SIU Ticket Office (west entrance of the SIU Arena) or the Student Center Central Ticket Office.

Special orders for handicapped, group sales, or adjustments to existing orders will be handled by the SIU Ticket Office either by walkup or phone at (618) 453-2000.

For more information on Keillor, his radio program and his vast body of work, see prairiehome.publicradio.org.
