

Keillor shows he's quick with a phrase

Thumbs Up to Garrison Keillor, not only for brightening our spring with his upcoming appearance at the Peace Center for the Performing Arts, but for his quick wit and creativity during his recent interview with our arts writer Paul Hyde. During the interview, Keillor, whose quick thinking on stage is evident, came up with an impromptu limerick: "There was a reporter named Hyde, Whose talent could not be denied. He knows all the news, doesn't smoke, but he chews, Is 18, and if not, then I lied." Keillor's wit is what endears him to so many fans of his "Prairie Home Companion" radio show and the heartwarming stories of his fictional hometown, Lake Wobegon. He's coming to the Peace Center on March 12.
