Art, politics will be topic

"A Forum on Art and Politics" will be sponsored at 8 p.m. today by the New American Movement at the Newman Center Chapel, 1701 University Av. SE.

Readings by Meridel Le Seuer and Garrison Keillor, local poets, and a presentation by the Alive and Trucking Theatre will open the forum.

A discussion will follow by a panel of those persons and Pol Bury, visiting sculptor at the Minneapolis School of Art and Design; Irwin Silber, culture critic of the Guardian, a British newspaper; Dmitri Iselos, professor of art history at the University of Minnesota, and David O'Fallen, local drama critic.

The forum is open to the public and a $1 donation is requested.
