

Garrison Keillor bringing farewell to Dallas shows

From the master of loooooooooong goodbyes comes — another goodbye?

Actually, Garrison Keillor, best known for his radio program A Prairie Home Companion on National Public Radio, is on his Third Annual Farewell Tour.

During the tour Keillor will perform at the Majestic Theatre in Dallas, 1925 Elm St., at 8 p.m. May 31 and June 1.

The format for his shows will be identical to his radio programs and include Prairie Home regulars Robin and Linda Williams, Kate MacKenzie, Dan Rowles and Rich Dworsky.

After his first show, Keillor will be the guest of honor at a reception benefiting KERA/90.1 FM at The Deep Ellum Cafe, 2704 Elm St., Dallas.

Tickets for the theater performances are $15 and $17 at Rainbow-Ticket-Master and TicketQuik outlets. Special tickets for the reception, including choice seats for the show, are $65 for KERA members or $75 for non-members and may be purchased through KERA, 3000 Harry Hines Blvd., Dallas 75201, metro (214) 263-3151 or (214) 871-1390.

The last regularly scheduled live broadcast of A Prairie Home Companion aired in June 1987, and rebroadcasts may be heard at 10 a.m. Sundays on KERA/90.1 FM.
