

Keillor part of Great Woods fine arts lineup

Garrison Keillor will bring his folk tunes and Minnesotan monologue to Mansfield on Saturday, June 6, when his American Radio Company show visits the Great Woods Center for Performing Arts.

Keillor performs a live weekly radio show that features comedy sketches, music, special guests and news from Lake Wobegon. His was the first act announced by Fleet/Norstar, which will present a fine arts series of about a dozen acts at Great Woods.

Fleet is a new sponsor for fine arts programming at Great Woods, which also offers jazz, rock and pop music acts throughout the summer.

Tickets for Keillor go on sale Monday, Feb. 10 at Ticketmaster outlets and phone charges, and will cost $25 and $20 for reserved seats in the pavilion, $12.50 for lawn seats.

Keillor's show also will be heard live on radio station WGBH-FM (89.7)
