ABINDGON, Va. — Last-minute additions to Barter Theatre's Annual Fund Event, "An Evening with Garrison Keillor," will make the night even more exciting, organizers announced recently.

"This event just keeps on getting better and better, and Bank of America Private Bank is honored to be a sponsor," Chris Walters, vice president-investments, said when it was announced that Robin and Linda Williams will be joining Keillor for his performance. "Then we found out that this event will be taped as part of a PBS documentary about Garrison Keillor," Walters added.

Limited tickets are still available for the night of entertainment featuring writer and humorist Garrison Keillor, known for his nationally broadcast radio show, "A Prairie Home Companion." This will be a special one-night only performance at Historic Barter Theatre Nov. 1 at 7 p.m.

Barter's ensemble members Eugene Wolf, Nicholas Piper and Gill Braswell will begin the evening with a short bluegrass performance.
