

627-4430 or 922-9000.

Today/

Northrop Auditorium: "Funny Bones"
(Great Britain, 1995), this dark comedy about a revered American comedian (Jerry Lewis) and his "wannabe" comedian son who can't quite measure up (Oliver Platt) will be introduced by director Peter Chelson and producer Simon Fields, 7:30 p.m. Garrison Keillor, Minnesota writer and national radio host, will emcee the festival's opening night. A champagne reception follows the screening in the Campus Club at nearby Coffman Union.

Saturday/

Bell: "The Tarzan of Mexico Turkey"