

Howling success

Ticket sales to radio's A Prairie Home Companion, broadcast live June 14 from the Jackie Gleason Theater, reached $104,000, 60 percent of which star Garrison Keillor and crew get before other expenses are paid.

Patricia Combine, development director for WLRN (91.3 FM), which presented the show, says the station hopes to net $20,000 after paying the bills for the crew's transportation, hotel rooms and a reception for VIPs.
